Kingsborough Community College Students

While you are taking your courses online, Blackboard Support would like to remind you of useful resources that are available to you 24 hours a day.

The college website has been utilized to place helpful information to address common CUNYfirst and Blackboard issues, including a video of Blackboard Student Training that was ongoing during the week leading up to the start of Distance Learning.

To access this information please go to the campus homepage http://kbcc.cuny.edu/ and click on Distance Learning.

Scroll down the page and look to Distance Learning Resources for Students.

Please keep in mind during Distance Learning your first point of contact with any issues concerning Blackboard is you Class instructor.

Email format for all course instructors is as follows: firstname.lastname@kbcc.cuny.edu

Good luck with your coursework this semester, be safe, and follow all current guidelines to ensure your continued good health
