KINGSBOROUGH COMMUNITY COLLEGE’S SPEECH COMMUNICATION PROGRAM CELEBRATES ITS 10TH ANNIVERSARY

On May 14, 2015, Kingsborough Community College celebrated the 10th Anniversary of its Speech Communication Program. Over 45 speech communication alumni, faculty, and students enjoyed dinner as they reconnected and reminisced in celebration of this special milestone. Alumni shared their educational and professional journeys since graduating the program. Remarks were provided by Dr. Cindy Greenberg - Professor and Director of Speech Communication, Dr. Loretta DiLorenzo - former Associate Dean of Academic Programs and Dr. Gloria Nicosia - Professor and Chair of the Department of Communications & Performing Arts.

About the Speech Communication Program at Kingsborough Community College
The Speech Communication Program at Kingsborough Community College is an Associate’s degree in Applied Science. This major is jointly registered by the State Education Department for both Kingsborough Community College and Brooklyn College. The Speech Communication major has two concentrations: Communication Studies and Speech Pathology.

About Kingsborough Community College
Kingsborough Community College serves approximately 14,000 full- and part-time students a year in credit and non-credit bearing courses in liberal arts and career education. As one of the City University of New York’s seven community colleges, Kingsborough provides a high-quality education through associate degree programs that prepare students for transfer to senior colleges or entry into professional careers, and is dedicated to promoting student learning and development as well as strengthening and serving its diverse community.