Hands-on Workforce Training and College Readiness for New York City Residents

Provided by the Northeast Resiliency Consortium

The Northeast Resiliency Consortium (NRC) is an initiative offered by the Center for Economic and Workforce Development (CEWD) in partnership with the Office of Continuing Education at Kingsborough Community College. It is designed to provide effective hands-on workforce training and college readiness to New York City residents.

Now Offering:

- Training that will prepare you for employment in the fields of Culinary Arts and/or Community Health Worker (CHW)
- Employment readiness services and job placement assistance
- Career counseling, college advisement and academic support
- Bank college credits towards an Associate Degree at Kingsborough Community College

Culinary Arts

The Culinary Arts Certificate training provides students with hands-on training in Food Preparation and the skills to earn State and nationally-recognized certificates in Food Safety and Food Production. Credits earned can be applied to a Culinary Arts A.A.S.

Program fee: $75

Food Service Upgrade (Test Prep)

Participants who successfully complete this Test Prep program are prepared to sit for the National Restaurant Association ServSafe Certification Exam and The New York City Department of Health Food Handler License Exam.

Program fee: $35

Community Health Worker Training

The Community Health Worker (CHW) training program prepares students to work within their communities as patient advocates, health educators and liaisons between the community and existing health/social services at large. CHW students will be introduced to a variety of health-related themes that will prepare them for this multi-faceted position, including the relationship between health and human behavior, managing high-risk behaviors and disease prevention.

Program fee: $75
