

Professional Organizations

- American Physical Therapy Association

<https://www.apta.org/apta-and-you/explore-apta-membership>

The American Physical Therapy Association (APTA) membership includes more than 100,000 physical therapists, and physical therapist assistants (PTAs) giving members access to professional resources, networking opportunities, and career support. Being part of APTA also connects PTAs with community leadership groups and specialized resources that can help them advance clinically and stay engaged with the profession.

