

Networking Events Outside KCC

- Annual IAI International Forensic Educational Conference (annual-August)

https://www.theiai.org/general_conference_information.php

The International Association for Identification (IAI) hosts a large annual international educational conference that brings together forensic science and crime scene professionals for a week of lectures, hands-on workshops, and technical training in various forensic disciplines. This conference is designed to help attendees stay current with professional standards, techniques, and developments in forensic investigation and physical evidence analysis.

- AAFS Annual Scientific Conference (annual-February)

<https://www.aafs.org/meetings-and-conferences>

The American Academy of Forensic Sciences (AAFS) organizes meetings that bring together forensic science professionals from around the world to share research, learn new techniques, and discuss advances across multiple forensic disciplines. These events provide networking opportunities for presenting scientific developments to strengthen the field of forensic science.

- Young Forensic Scientists Forum (annual-February)

<https://www.aafs.org/annual-conference/young-forensic-scientists-forum>

The mission of the YFSF is to provide education, mentorship, and resources to students and champion young forensic scientists in order to promote interest and longevity in the field while encouraging participation and advancement within the American Academy of Forensic Sciences.

- NEAFS Annual Meeting (annual-October/November)

<https://www.neafs.org/neafs-annual-meeting>

The Northeastern Association of Forensic Scientists (NEAFS) hosts an annual meeting that brings together forensic science professionals from the Northeastern United States to share knowledge, present research, and participate in training opportunities. This event fosters collaboration, professional development, and the exchange of best practices within the forensic science community.

