

Professional Organizations

- American Academy of Forensic Sciences

<https://www.aafs.org/>

The American Academy of Forensic Sciences (AAFS) is a global multidisciplinary professional organization that advances forensic science and its application to the legal system through education, research, standards, and collaboration among experts from many scientific fields. It supports a diverse membership with conferences, publications, and professional development to improve forensic practice and promote integrity in the field.

- International Association for Identification

<https://www.theiai.org/>

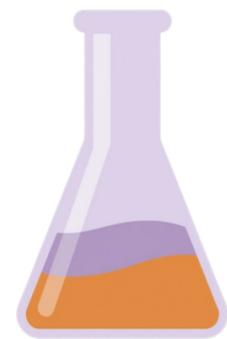

The International Association for Identification (IAI) is a network that supports forensic experts by offering training, certifications, and resources to improve investigative practices. It connects professionals to share knowledge, uphold high standards, and advance the field of forensic identification.

- Northeastern Association of Forensic Scientists

<https://www.neafs.org/>

The Northeastern Association of Forensic Scientists (NEAFS) is a nonprofit professional association for individuals working in forensic science in the Northeastern United States. It promotes the exchange of ideas, cooperation, and professional development among forensic science practitioners through meetings, training opportunities, and networking.

- Society of Forensic Toxicologists

<https://www.soft-tox.org/>

The Society of Forensic Toxicologists (SOFT) is a nonprofit professional association dedicated to advancing forensic toxicology by supporting education, research, and collaboration among toxicology practitioners. It offers meetings, workshops, publications, and networking opportunities to help professionals develop their skills and contribute to justice and public health.

