

Fall 2024

Dear Nursing 2100 Student,

Welcome to Nursing 2100 and the Fall 2024 semester. Congratulations for making it this far! Enclosed you will find important and useful information to be successful in Nursing 2100. Please read through this letter very carefully and ask the 2100 faculty about anything you are unsure of. The Nursing 2100 faculty utilize various teaching strategies to engage you the student and to enhance your success in the course. These strategies include gaming, flipped classrooms, role-playing, simulations, case studies and alternative learning tools. By adhering to the course guidelines, completing all readings and assignments, and actively engaging in class, you can be successful in this course. All information you require is located under the various tabs of Brightspace. Please familiarize yourself before class begins. Brightspace should be accessed Brightspace everyday as this is where the faculty will post any announcements/assignments pertaining to Nursing 2100.

Looking forward to an outstanding semester,

Prof. Joan M Zaloom, Course Coordinator

Prof. Tamara Bellomo

Prof. Mary Shannon

LECTURE INFORMATION:

Please refer to Brightspace for all assignments, as some are due the first week of class.

1. REQUIRED ELECTRONIC TEXTBOOK:

Lippincott CoursePoint for Brunner & Suddarth's Textbook of Medical-Surgical Nursing, 15th Edition, Hinkle, J.L. & Cheever, K.H. (2021)

You are required to buy CoursePoint Plus Enhanced for Hinkle for the 15th edition. Coursepoint+ Enhanced includes:

- Enhanced eBook downloadable to four devices with note taking, highlighting and search functionality
- Multimedia resources
- Access to PrepU Adaptive Learning program (which is a required component of the course).
- Annual content updates
- Lippincott Advisor for Education
- 10 virtual simulations
- Picmonics
- Stedman's Online Dictionary

There are two ISBNs for Coursepoint for Hinkle. The products are the same, it is just the delivery that changes the number, and it is extremely important that you only purchase using either of these ISBNs, as failure to do so will lead to compatibility problems with course resources:

Retail Purchases: 9781975186777

Direct/Microsite Purchase: 9781975186814

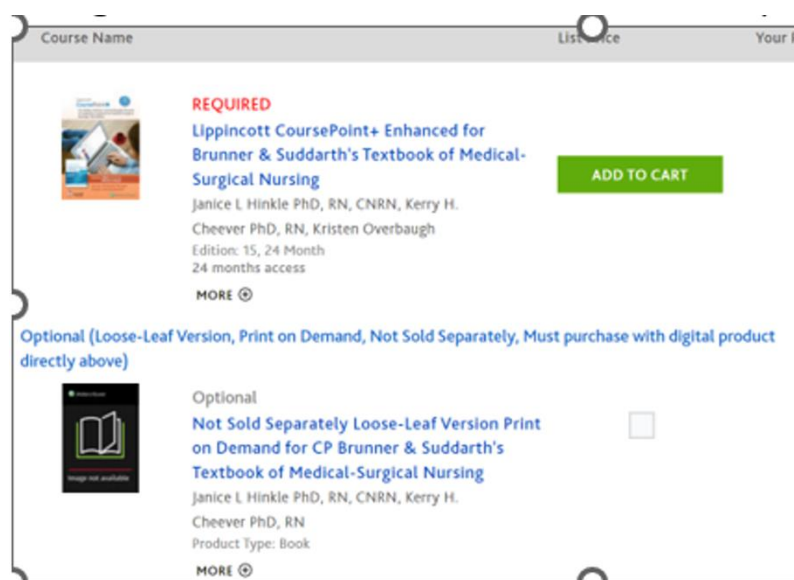

Please Note: this option is the most cost effective and comprehensive. It does not include hard copy printed textbook or study guide. If you want print in addition to Coursepoint, that is an extra fee and is available by calling customer service after redeeming your code on thePoint.lww.com. Customer service can be reached at 800-638-3030 and you can request to purchase the print on demand.
