RE: Change in Degree Requirements for A.A. Liberal Arts

The Department of Foreign Languages is proposing a change to the degree requirements for the A.A. in Liberal Arts

Changes:

- 1. Inclusion of a the option of a Foreign Language under degree requirements for the major
- 2. Addition of notation explaining Foreign Language options within the degree and concentration requirements

Rationale for Change:

The Department supports including an option for students to take a Foreign Language under the major requirements for the Liberal Arts degree – through the addition of the following: World History or Anthropology or Foreign Language (addition).

The Department considers language as a critically important point of entry into cross-cultural understanding, which aligns with its placement alongside World History and Anthropology. Given the strong cultural content inherent to Foreign Language courses, enhanced language instruction would prepare students for a more profound and sustained immersion in international contexts and give students the tools needed to more thoroughly appreciate different cultural worldviews through the exploration of the intersections of culture, identity, power, and structural inequalities in a rigorous and intentional way. This change would underscore Kingsborough's commitment to diversity and internationalism in the curriculum.

Additionally, the option of a Foreign Language under the major requirement for the degree addresses not only the importance of cultural diversity and transnational awareness within the major, but also the College Option requirement at four-year institutions that require a full year of a Foreign Language. Students will be able to complete a full-year of a Foreign Language through the option under the major requirements as well as the selection of a Foreign Language under Flexible Core: World Cultures and Global Issues (Group A).

Students who enter without prior training in a Foreign Language would have to achieve proficiency in a Foreign Language through the 200-course level. Students who have prior training or native fluency in a language other than English would be required to take at least one course at or above the 300-course level in the language they have acquired, or an introductory course (100-200-course level sequence) in a new language.
